

IN COLLABORATION WITH ESSENTIAL THEATRE'S
2023 FESTIVAL, WE ARE EXCITED TO DEBUT:

WALK WITH ME: LOVING STEPS ON THE DEMENTIA JOURNEY IN-PERSON - TWO NIGHTS ONLY: AUGUST 30 AND AUGUST 31, 2023

A portion of the $25 admission fee goes directly to the non-profit Essential Theatre

CE Credit available for Social Workers, Case
Managers, Nurses, and Counselors

Featuring a one act play written and performed by Carolyn Cook with discussion/CE credits by
Anne McSweeney, LCSW

Join us for a pre-show Networking &
Resource fair from 6:30 - 7:30 PM

In this autobiographical play, a woman sets out to meet her loved ones with dementia where they are, and returns with a guidebook for fellow travelers.

Covering fifty years in twenty minutes, Walk With Me leads into a discussion about positive caregiving facilitated by social worker Anne McSweeney, LCSW, owner of CEU Creations. Join us for evening of warmth and discovery for families, helping professionals, and anyone whose life may be touched by dementia.

Each night is the same production - so, you can choose which is more convenient to attend! due to the collaboration with the non-profit theater, we are not able to issue refunds

1 CE credit for social workers, counselors, case managers, and nurses available. For official CE flyer, please reach out to patty@ceucrationsinc.com.

WEDNESDAY OR
THURSDAY,
August 30 or 31, 2023
6:30 PM - 7:30 PM
Networking & Resource Fair
7:30 PM - 8:30 PM
Play/CE Discussion

7 STAGES
THEATER
1105 Euclid Ave
Atlanta, GA 30307

CLICK LINK BELOW
or scan QR code to purchase tickets directly on the Essential
Theater Website
<https://bit.ly/EssentialTheater>
Tickets $25

GENEROUSLY SPONSORED BY

Every Detail Remembered™

FOR OFFICIAL CE FLYER INCLUDING AGENDA AND FULL DESCRIPTIONS, PLEASE EMAIL PATTY@CEUCRATIONSINC.COM

PRESENTER BIOS

Carolyn Cook

Carolyn Cook has spent the last twelve years learning about dementia as she and her siblings navigated their mother's dementia care. She participated in the 2015 Memory Bridge Training Retreat, a five-day intensive program leading to positive, meaningful dementia relationships. Carolyn co-developed and performed Blackberry Winter, a play by Steve Yockey about a woman whose mother has Alzheimer's disease, co-produced by Out of Hand Theater and Actor's Express, and has chronicled her experiences with dementia care in her blog, Lifelong Metamorphoses. An Atlanta theater veteran, Carolyn has worked with Seven Stages, Horizon Theatre, Actor's Express, Theatrical Outfit, the Alliance Theatre, Georgia Shakespeare, and Theater Emory, and is the founder and artistic director of Atlanta-based Théâtre du Rêve (Theater of the Dream), a professional theater company that brings French language and Francophone culture to life on the American stage. She is honored to team with Ann McSweeney, CEU Creations, and Essential Theatre to bring you this production of Walk With Me.

Anne McSweeney, LCSW

Anne McSweeney, LCSW, President of CEU Creations, has a diverse background in medical social work, education, and community relations. With a social work career that spans over two decades, she has been planning continuing education trainings for over 17 years. Anne founded CEU Creations in 2010 to transform the CE landscape. Her goal is to provide innovative trainings that keep the learner engaged, connect the learner with community resources/companies (which in turn, allows for the CEs to be more affordable) and ultimately change best practices and outcomes. Prior to founding CEU Creations, she practiced medical social work for over eight years – working primarily with the geriatric population in home health, hospice, and dialysis. In 2015, she was appointed to the Fulton County Commission on Elderly Affairs where she served for five years as an advocate for seniors in Fulton County. She has also served on the boards of The Aimee Copeland Foundation, The Atlanta Senior Care Network Niche and Ageless Interaction.