PRESENTER:

Colleen Beach, MSW, LSW
Specialist Professor at the School of Social Work,
Monmouth University

Colleen Beach, MSW, LSW, is a Specialist Professor at the School of Social Work, Monmouth University in West Long Branch, New Jersey. She is a chair and co-chair for several committees at the university and school, e.g. Growing Together as Allies, and a member of the school's Initiatives on Aging group, and the University's Program for Gender and Intersectionality Studies. Prior to working in academic settings, her professional experience was in long term services and supports serving predominantly older adults in home and community-based care, nursing homes, and residential settings. Her areas of scholarly interest include elder justice, health and well-being, intergenerational relationship building, social determinants of health, and anti-oppressive social work practice. Recent presentations and panels include panel presentations such as Intergenerational connections, interprofessional collaborations, and the use of technology: Unifying goals through a global pandemic, and paired or individual presentations including Planting the Seeds for Climate Change Adaptation and Elder Abuse Prevention: Leave No One Behind, Identifying and Responding to an 'Other' Form of Adult Maltreatment: Bullying, and Confronting Ageism Head-On to Prevent Elder Abuse. She is a member of organizations that advocate for social workers, elder justice, and elder abuse prevention, such as the National Association of Social Workers and the New York NGO Committee on Ageing.

From Apathy to Opportunity: Thriving Together through Intergenerational Relationships

AGENDA

1:50 PM ET – 2:00 PM ET:	Log in and Virtual Networking
2:00 PM ET – 3:00 PM ET:	Presentation
3:00 PM ET:	Evaluations and adjourn

Ageism and ableism, compounded by other forms of oppression, have fostered a sense of apathy in our communities around intergenerational relationship building. However, when generations do more than simply co-exist, but rather form bonds, synergy can be created to help communities thrive. In this presentation, participants will be guided to an approach that can be used to build more opportunities for our clients, communities, and ourselves to become energized around intergenerational relationship building.

BY THE END OF THE SESSION, THE PARTICIPANT WILL BE ABLE TO:

- Identify at least one way that building intergenerational relationships connects with their professional or aspirational goals.
- Identify at least one reason why fostering intergenerational engagement enhances community well-being.
- Discover additional resources for further learning on intergenerational relationship building and the Vital Conditions for Health and Well-Being.

Course Interaction and Technical Requirements: This live webinar is fully interactive. Attendees may ask and answer questions throughout the presentation and participate in instructor-led discussions. A computer or mobile device is required. Zoom account is not required. You will receive an email approximately 24 hours prior to the start of the class with a link to the webinar.

In order to receive credit, you must log in on time, attend the entire presentation, and complete an online evaluation within 30 minutes of the conclusion of the event. Attendance log and Zoom analytics will be reviewed by the CE Director. Certificates will be provided in approximately 7-10 business days.

Target audience: Social workers, case managers, discharge planners, nurses and other healthcare professionals.
