PRESENTED BY:

Alyse November,
PhD, LCSW

Alyse November, PhD, LCSW obtained her Bachelor's degree in Psychology, her Master's Degree in Social Work from Adelphi University, NY, and her PhD in Clinical Sexology from IICS. She is credentialed by the Academy of Certified Social Workers.

Alyse is the founder of Different Like Me, a company with a staff of over 30 professionals providing psychotherapy, psychoeducational testing and cognitive rehabilitation. As a licensed clinical social worker, Alyse provides psychotherapy to individuals across the lifespan. A substantial portion of her practice has focused on addressing challenges faced by children, adults, seniors, and families ranging from trauma, narcissistic and borderline family recovery, aging, chronic illness, divorce, trans-care, relationships, parenting, and special needs, end of life issues, dementia, caregiving, educational challenges, anxiety, and depression. Her PhD dissertation focused on the assessment of sexual challenges and dementia. Alyse also created DLMU which is an educational platform that provides seminars for both professional and personal development.

Stephanie Newberg, LCSW, M.Ed.

Stephanie Newberg, LCSW, M.Ed. is a licensed psychotherapist in Florida and Pennsylvania, working with individuals, couples and families. She has been in practice for more than 25 years specializing in family and couples therapy, conflict resolution, grief and loss, parenting support and the implications of divorce on children and families. In addition, Stephanie is a trained family and divorce mediator/co-parent counselor and has received intensive training in sand tray play therapy for adolescents and children. Stephanie has led numerous workshops and presentations for adults and adolescents on relationship and communication skills, dealing with the effects of divorce on families, diversity issues, cyberbullying/effects of technology on development, nutrition and mental health, and conflict resolution skills. In addition, Stephanie has numerous publications and has been on two podcasts. Stephanie is a certified counselor for first responders, trained in neuro-emotional techniques, served as a consultant for the Council for Relationships in Philadelphia, PA, and works at the Bryn Mawr College Graduate School of Social work as an adjunct professor, supervisor, and field work liaison for social work students.

Breaking the Cycle: Helping Clients Cope with Separation or Divorce

AGENDA

8:45 AM – 9:00 AM:	Log In and Virtual Networking
9:00 AM – 12:00 PM:	Breaking the Cycle: Helping Clients Cope with Separation or Divorce (Includes a 10-minute break)
12:00 PM – 12:40 PM:	Lunch
12:40 PM – 3:00 PM:	Breaking the Cycle: Helping Clients Cope with Separation or Divorce (Includes a 10-minute break)

The purpose of this course is to provide an orientation and framework for clinicians who are interested in working with clients, both individuals and families, who are going through all stages of separation and divorce.

With approximately 50% of the population in the US experiencing divorce, many clinicians find that they are struggling to manage the client's presentation surrounding the myriad of issues when they emerge in the clinical process. This course will provide clinicians with clinical skills and knowledge to help their clients to cope with stress, conflict and relationship struggles, due to separation and divorce. Participants will learn practical techniques and skills to assist clients with communication skills, co-parenting, reunification, parenting support, interpersonal violence, blended families, impact on children, ethics, parenting plans and personality disorders to address the many facets that this transition presents with, when working with clients of all ages.

BY ATTENDING OUR WORKSHOP, YOU WILL BE ABLE TO:

1. Identify all the aspects of what the divorce process entails and how it impacts clients.
2. Examine clinical skills to treat the impacts of separation or divorce.
3. Identify & assess how the specific aspects of divorce (such as single parenting, communication with ex-partner) affect the individual as well as the whole family system.
4. Describe how personality disorders, infidelity, IPV, poor communication skills, and conflict can be addressed in the clinical setting.
5. Summarize the different stages of separation or divorce.

Course Interaction and Technical Requirements: This live webinar is fully interactive. Attendees may ask and answer questions throughout the presentation and participate in instructor-led discussions. A computer or mobile device is required. Zoom account is not required. You will receive an email approximately 24 hours prior to the start of the class with a link to the webinar.

In order to receive credit, you must log in on time, attend the entire presentation, and complete an online evaluation within 30 minutes of the conclusion of the event. Attendance log and Zoom analytics will be reviewed by the CE Director. Certificates will be provided in approximately 5 business days.
